Fees/Financial Eligibility: Planning fee waived for special needs planning services.

Services: Planning for the future of a child or other dependent with special needs requires very detailed and specific planning. Planning must be individualized and geared towards meeting the goals and objectives of each and every family. Planning cannot take place in a vacuum, but must also incorporate input from professionals, advocates, social services delivery systems, community-based supports, and extended family members. In order to plan effectively, detailed information must be gathered and assimilated from many sources, and integrated into a comprehensive plan that meets the long-term needs of the individual. This Special Needs planning process can help families to: Gain a greater understanding of government benefits; learn techniques to preserve government benefits eligibility for SSI and Medicaid; Understand legal and financial issues in special needs planning, including special needs trusts; The letter of intent; Review legal options when a child with special needs turns age 18 to include guardianship, and conservatorship; Client self-determination issues; and determining how much money is needed to provide lifetime quality care.
